Our story in Beeston

For over fifty years, Middle Street Resource Centre has been a place, in the heart of the East Midlands, where people can find understanding, friendship, and support with their mental health.

From its beginnings in the 1970s to today, local people have shaped Middle Street into a welcoming, stigma-free space that feels more like a community than a service.

Now managed by Beeston Community Resource CIO, we offer mental health support groups, one-to-one help, social activities and volunteering opportunities. At the heart of the fully-accessible Resource Centre are our friendly community café and tranquil garden – open to everyone, whether you come for a group, a cuppa, or a quiet moment.

Why I'm leaving a gift in my Will

Following diagnosis of a life-long health condition and redundancy from a successful career, I was in desperate need of support with my mental wellbeing. The team at Middle Street were there for me when prescribed medication and other therapies weren't helping.

The difference that the community of people there helped me to make to my life was immense. Together, they found creative ways to build my confidence, encouraging me to have belief in myself and equipping me with skills to maintain positive mental wellbeing.

With Middle Street's support, I became a mature student, gained qualifications, volunteered as a charity trustee, and secured paid employment at Middle Street. I now feel that I'm back on track with my life and want to make sure many more people have the opportunity to get this vital support in future. Colin, Funding & Finance Coordinator, Beeston Community Resource CIO
